

Grayling Water Is Purest Quality

NEW SYSTEM IN FULL OPERATION

Engineers connected with the installation of Grayling's new waterworks system are loud in their praises for the fine quality of water. And it is now ready for use for all purposes.

The old system took its water from the AuSable river, which, coming out of the pond that has been used for a half century for floating saw logs, was more or less contaminated from wood bark. That system is now entirely cut off and the new supply now comes from deep wells.

The elevated water tanks were drained and the new, pure water pumped in. Then a process of chlorination was applied in the water which entirely destroys any contamination that might have remained in the tank and pipes. Water users no doubt noticed the slight odor and taste caused by the chlorine, which is entirely harmless to humans. This will soon entirely pass off and then there will be an abundance of the finest kind of water—pure, soft and cold. Temperature test showed the water as it came from the wells, with a temperature of 35 degrees above zero—only 3 degrees above freezing. It is about as near to freezing temperature as water can be and not become ice.

Questioning City Manager Miller as to when we could start using the water for drinking purposes he replied that his family were already using it for that purpose.

Now Grayling may rightfully boast of as fine a system of waterworks and as fine water as any city in the state.

MRS. C. L. SMITH PASSED AWAY

Funeral Held Sunday. Interment At Vanderbilt

Mrs. Charles L. Smith passed away quite suddenly at her home last Thursday noon at 12:30 o'clock. Although she had been ailing with heart trouble for about two years, she had rallied from several attacks and so her recent illness caused no grave concern to her family.

Maude A. Smith was born in Bay county, March 18, 1879 and some time before coming to Grayling in 1912 was united in marriage to Charles L. Smith. The family came to Grayling from Deward, and some years ago built a comfortable home on Villa street where they have since resided. Mrs. Smith, although much of a home body, was active in lodge circles, having been record keeper for the Maccabees for over 15 years. She was also a member of the local Rebekah and Forester orders. Very kind and sympathetic, she had a large circle of friends.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon with services at the home, Rev. Flory of Michelson Memorial church officiating. The remains were taken to Vanderbilt for interment, a large cortege of sorrowing relatives and friends accompanying.

The deceased is survived besides her husband by one daughter, Mrs. Lillian Ryan, grandson, Charles Robert Ryan of Grayling, and a sister and brother, Mrs. Emma Hause and Thomas Smith of Yakima, Wash., who have the sincere sympathy of many friends in their sorrow.

Among those from out-of-town in attendance at the funeral were the following: Oscar Taylor, Mrs. Harold Murdock and Mrs. Bruce Greenbury and families of Detroit; Mrs. Martha Ashley and daughter Virginia of Morocco, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Nichols and son of St. Clair; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams and Eugene Adams of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. George Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Elba Gregory, Mancelona; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nichols, Wolverson; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Corry, Vanderbilt; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Aleck Barrett of Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leach and Mrs. Inez Bagge of Chelsea were here last week previous to Mrs. Smith's passing, but did not remain for the funeral.

Chinese Lecturer Speaks Here Wed.

TALK ON INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The people of Grayling will have the privilege of hearing Dr. N. O-Yong Park, an outstanding Chinese lecturer, at the school auditorium next Wednesday forenoon.

Dr. Park holds degrees from Harvard and Minnesota universities. He just recently returned from the Orient and will speak on International Relations. Everyone here should hear him at the school auditorium next Wednesday morning at 10:45 o'clock. A collection will be taken to provide funds for expenses.

Nelson Sharpe Is Dead At 77

SERVED FOR 16 YEARS ON SUPREME BENCH

Lansing, Oct. 20.—Nelson Sharpe, a justice of the Michigan Supreme Court since September, 1919, died at 2:25 p. m. Sunday after having suffered a heart attack Wednesday in court.

Justice Sharpe was widely known in Michigan, among both attorneys and Republican leaders, and was respected as a keen student of the law.

The attack was his first illness. He was 77 years old. Death came in his residence in the Porter Apartments.

The body lay at the Estes-Leadley Funeral Home until services at 10 a. m. Wednesday, following which the body was taken to West Branch for services at 4 p. m. and burial.

Justice Sharpe was born Aug. 25, 1858, on a farm in Northumberland County, Ont. He received his early education in country schools, taught school from his sixteenth to twenty-first years, then entered Albert College at Belleville. After two years in college he began the study of law in a Belleville office.

Moving to Michigan in 1885, he was admitted to the practice of law and opened an office at West Branch. He also owned and edited the West Branch Times until 1890, when he was elected Ogemaw County Prosecutor.

In 1893 Justice Sharpe was named by Gov. T. Rich to fill a vacancy in the Thirty-fourth Judicial Circuit, including Arenac, Crawford, Gladwin, Ogemaw, Oshtemo and Roscommon Counties, and he was re-elected each time by heavy majorities, serving 20 years.

Upon the death of Justice Russell C. Ostrander, Mr. Sharpe was appointed by Gov. Albert Sleeper to the Supreme Court vacancy, and he was elected in 1920 to fill out the term, which did not expire until 1927.

In 1927, and again this year, Justice Sharpe was elected for eight years. His new term was to have begun Jan. 1, 1936.

Surviving are two sons, Don B. Sharpe, Kalamazoo attorney, and Leo N. Sharpe, Philadelphia attorney; a brother, Albert C. Sharpe, city attorney of Sault Ste. Marie, and a sister, Mrs. Sarah Broatch, of Saskatchewan Province.

Justice Sharpe's death probably will cause a delay in the Supreme Court decision in the Voelker-Elliott dispute over the Superintendency of Public Education. The decision had been expected Monday.

MRS. EMIL GIEGLING ENTERTAINS WITH LUNCHEON

One of the loveliest parties of the fall season was given by Mrs. Emil Giegling at her home Thursday afternoon.

A beautiful American beauty rose centered each of the five small tables on which the luncheon was served. Also bouquets of the same roses were arranged through the rooms, giving a cheerful air to the party.

Following the luncheon, tables were arranged for both contract and auction bridge. Mrs. O. P. Schumann held the high score for contract, Mrs. S. A. Stealy for auction, while Mrs. A. J. Joseph held the lucky number for the door prize.

Our Christmas card samples are now on display and we invite you to drop in and look them over—The Avalanche.

Mrs. Alger Sounds Warning Against Red Menace In America

COMMUNISTIC ACTIVITIES ARE GNAWING AT THE VERY VITALS OF OUR GOVERNMENT, DETROIT CIVIC LEADER DECLARES

Sounding a warning against the menace of communism, which is "gnawing at the very vitals of our constitutional government," Mrs. Frederick M. Alger, former member of the State Liquor Control Commission and an outstanding civic leader, called on all citizens to awaken to the danger and to "stamp it out as one would the plague," in an address before the Acorn Republican Club and its women's auxiliary, in the Savarine Hotel, Detroit.

"The menace is serious, so let us face the faces," Mrs. Alger declared in disclosing that right at this time there are more than six times as many Communists and affiliates in America than in Russia at the time of the bloody Bolshevik revolution.

Making a scholarly study of the various types of government throughout ancient and modern history, Mrs. Alger stated that no new form of government exists today. The real danger, according to Mrs. Alger, lies in the fact that persons who have not been deep students of history are led to believe that communism, dictatorship, and the many other 'isms' are new.

"Anything new appeals to the youth," she said, "and this provides a most fertile field for the Communistic organizers. It is no secret that our Universities are filled with Communistic activities, yet we sit almost idly by and let such a condition exist. Such a placid attitude is Un-American."

"You may know that there are twice as many members in Communistic and affiliated movements in the United States today than there are members at present in the Communist Party of Russia—the minority that subjects 168,000,000 Russians to virtual enslavement."

"You may know that in the field of youth in America, Communists maintain thousands of local dance schools, clubs, art schools, film movements, atheist Sunday schools, summer camps, lecture bureaus, and many other groups, all teaching revolutionary spirit and tactics."

"If you know all of these things, and believe that our old and proved Constitutional form of government the ideal, then you would be lax in your duty as a patriotic citizen if you failed to take an active part in killing this dread thing."

"The difficulty is that innocent and patriotic citizens often find themselves as leaders in some peace or disarmament activity, never realizing that gleeful reports are going into Communist headquarters, yes, even to Russia—telling of the duping of well intentioned people."

If you really find it difficult to believe that there is a serious menace as a result of Communism in America, then go to your service men's organizations and they will be glad to show you the facts. "Recently in Detroit many women were in sympathy with the meat strike until they learned that it was guided by Communists. Now while we dislike paying fifty cents a pound for bacon that cost but twenty-cents two years ago, while the incomes of few, if any, have risen in the same proportion—we cannot place the blame on the retailer. If the average retailer comes out even at the end of the year, after paying his overhead, he is lucky these days. It does not require a student of economics to convince us that if you destroy a great percentage of the total pigs that the farmer has raised, and add a very sizeable processing tax to those to be sold, then add new and innumerable taxes from the farmer to the retailer, that the price of meat is bound to rise sky-high. And this is exactly what has happened. Let's look the facts squarely in the face and take the blame ourselves and if we do not like existing conditions, resort to the orderly and legal forms of correction, provided by law."

"Even our present government is filled with Communists and communistic planning. Let there be no mistake—the menace is serious. Let those of us who believe in our democracy and constitutional government organize immediately against that well-organized minority whose very watchword is destruction, and not construction."

Fall Fair Exhibit At Church Sat.

4-H CLUB ACHIEVEMENT DAY SHOWS CLUB ACTIVITIES

Over 450 quarts of fruit and vegetables, and more than 50 peck samples of potatoes will be exhibited to the public by the 4-H Club members of Crawford, Montmorency and Osego counties at Grayling on Saturday, October 26, when the Club members of these counties hold their annual Fall Fair and Achievement Day at the Michelson Memorial church. The exhibits which will be on display from 10:00 A. M. to 3:30 P. M. will show how over 125 boys and girls engaged in 4-H Club activities utilize their time and efforts during the summer months.

While the quality of the exhibits will demonstrate the Club motto "To Make the Best Better" as it applies to the actual project work, the program by the club members at the High School auditorium in the afternoon will reflect the influence of Club work upon the members and lead to the conclusion that the Club motto can also be applied to the boys and girls enrolled in 4-H Club activities.

Recognition will be given every member who completes the project requirements. Cash prizes are being offered every member who exhibits; official 4-H Club pins will be awarded each "finisher"; and a free banquet will be served every member and leader who attends the Fair. Trips to the district Club Camp at Gaylord will be provided for outstanding members in the various projects.

Many Die From Monoxide
Between 500 and 700 persons meet death every year from monoxide generated from automobile engines. A few of these are suicides, the rest result from carelessness and lack of knowledge regarding this gas.

Roy Trudgen Heads Winter Sports

NEW OFFICERS TAKE OVER RESPONSIBILITIES

The annual meeting of the Grayling Winter Sports Association was held last night at the Courthouse. Dr. C. R. Keyport president, presided and the financial report of the year's activities was read by the treasurer.

Election of officers was held for the ensuing year and Roy Trudgen was elected president; Don Reynolds, vice president; Charles E. Moore, secretary, and Wilfred Laurant was re-elected treasurer.

The retiring president, Dr. Keyport and the other officers put forth a lot of effort last year and worked unceasingly to make winter sports a success during their regime and their efforts were very well rewarded. Things were carried out in a systematic manner and as a whole it was one of the association's most successful seasons. The retiring officers deserve the sincere thanks of the public for their fine cooperation.

Local Grange Asks Repeal AAA Act

At a recent meeting of Crawford County Grange the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved by Crawford County Grange No. 934 that we are unanimously opposed to the 'Agricultural Adjustment Administration Act' and will make every effort to have it repealed."

"Whereas it is unjust to the producer of minor commodities and to the small or occasional producer, we are irrevocably against the government curtailing the production of any crop."

And whereas it can plainly be seen that it is impossible to have it justly administered and unless an army of employees are maintained the cost of which would offset any possible benefits to the farmer and only an added expense to the consumer.

"Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be spread on the minutes of our meeting and a copy sent to the State Grange and a copy to our Senator and Representative in Congress."

POTATO ACT NOT IN EFFECT

The Potato Act does not in any way effect either the consumption nor the sale of potatoes at the present time. Sales allotments must be made for growers before any restrictions are placed on sales. Every person interested in potatoes will be given ample notice of the establishment of such allotments.

OUT TO TRIM GAYLORD

Grayling is out to trim Gaylord in the electric light sales contest that is being staged by the Michigan Public Service Co. branches. While the contest for biggest sales during the period of October 14th to November 14th is extended to each branch of the MPS, still there is an extra one that pertains solely to the Grayling-Gaylord sales units.

And here again is where another "Brown Jug" enters the prize ring. H. B. Lynn, the new manager of the Cheboygan district of which Grayling and Gaylord are parts, is having this special jug painted and appropriately lettered after which it will be displayed at the Grayling and Gaylord offices.

Last year Don Reynolds, the local manager won the prize which was a turkey dinner, furnished by Manager Haines of Gaylord. From now on the winner will have something intrinsic to show for what they have accomplished in the way of selling electric lamps.

For the district there are seven prizes—all turkeys, ranging from 18 pounds down to 8 pounds. Don says he hopes to win first prize in this contest as well as to "Bring Home the Jug." We believe Grayling pride will get behind Don in this campaign, and buy all the lamps that we possibly can use. GET THAT JUG!

The rule of tyranny always precedes the making of tyrants, instead of the making of tyrants preceding tyranny.

Legion Jottings

Last Thursday evening the Drum & Bugle Corps spent considerable time practicing on a new selection and the boys did real good on this new number. Many were missing from the ranks. We wonder why?

On Monday evening after a short practice the Drum & Bugle Corps held a contest. Each bugler present picked out a selection among the pieces they have learned to play. Although it seems to have become a habit with some to stay away, some of the others must have had stage fright and stayed at home. The contest was held after practice and the boys did exceptionally well. Comrade Harold Hatfield won first prize as playing the best selection on a baritone bugle and Comrade Clarence Johnson won first prize on a soprano bugle. The drum section was used as judges. Although all the buglers who played did not receive prizes, many of them were very close seconds. We hope to have more of these contests as they will keep the boys striving to do better playing.

The American Legion is planning on celebrating Armistice Day in Grayling and hope that all industries and business places will join with them. It is planned to have an Armistice Day parade. Let you forget, Nov. 11 should be observed by every patriotic city in the United States. Let's make this an annual event at it should be.

Wednesday evening the American Legion held a special meeting and at this meeting several things of importance were taken up, such as the membership drive, Armistice Day, and plans for the balance of the year.

We are going to ask through this column, that the citizens of our city keep their children away from the cub bear cage so they cannot get hurt. The bear is getting larger and you are asked to instruct your children not to feed or do anything to make the bear vicious.

Get into the American Legion this year Buddy while the campaign is on.

A government that destroys individual initiative must be prepared to hand out a dole to its citizens.

WHEN PEOPLE come into our store it seems natural for us to reach for a Charge Slip. But we're getting used to it and our customers will too. And it's strange not to see Joe busy loading up a lot of Groceries for delivery. But that's off too, and we find that people like to come personally to our store and carry home their Groceries.

FOLKS can do much better when they can see what they are buying. And that gives the housewife many

THEN TOO, everyone knows it costs money to keep saved to our customers. And by selling for cash, we're not going to have any poor accounts that are costly

This Means Money Saved For Your Customers

Michigan AuSable Project Approved

Madison, Wisconsin, Oct. 14—Final approval by the President and by the Resettlement Administration of land acquisition for the Michigan AuSable project was announced here today by Reynolds I. Nowell, Regional Director of the Resettlement Administration for Region II.

This is the first of the Resettlement Administration Michigan land projects to receive the official "Go Sign." It involves the purchase of 53,000 acres of land at an approximate cost of $400,000. Plans for resettlement and development will be announced later.

These acres comprising the first purchase for the AuSable project lie in the northern portion of the lower peninsula of Michigan, and, although privately owned, are largely surrounded by lands of the following State forests: AuSable, Fife Lake, Ogemaw, Higgins Lake, Houghton Lake, and Presque Isle.

Final approval of the project means that options now held by the government will be taken up. However, checks will not be mailed out to farmers whose lands have been optioned until the titles are clear and plans completed for their resettlement. Programs for the relocation of farm families affected are being worked out on nearby lands of a high quality of fertility.

The lands to be purchased comprise about 400 scattered poor farms in the cut-over section of Michigan where agriculture has never been profitable although some of the persons in certain towns and villages formerly dependent upon lumbering operations for a livelihood have attempted to make a go of it by tilling the soil against the obvious disadvantages of short seasons, poor land, and insufficient rainfall.

THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1936

Why do we say The New Ford V-8 for 1936?

What is new about it?

Of course, the newest engine in the low-price car field is still the V-8 engine. Since Ford made it available to all car users (keeping it as economical as cars with fewer cylinders) the Ford V-8 has been the newest engine on the market, and remains the newest for 1936.

You may buy a car on minor "talking points"—some specially advertised feature "with the car thrown in"—but, after all, it is the engine you buy when you buy a car. Hence we put the engine first.

Other new points about the car make a long list.

Its lines are much more beautiful. The hood is longer and sweeps forward over the distinctive new radiator grille, giving the car a length and grace that are instantly impressive. The fenders are larger, with a wide flare. Horns are concealed behind circular grilles beneath the headlamps. New steel wheels.

Ford upholstery—always of sterling quality and excellent taste—is rich and enduring. The appointments of the car have a new touch of refinement. There is no question about the increased beauty of the Ford V-8 for 1936.

In more practical matters, many improvements have been made—Steering is made easier by a new steering gear ratio. The cooling system circulates 5½ gallons of water through a new, larger radiator. Natural thermosiphon action is assisted by two centrifugal water pumps. New style hood louvers permit a rapid air-flow around the engine.

Easier, quieter shifting of Ford gears—The gear shift lever now travels a shorter distance.

The two qualities you want in brakes—Brakes that stop the car with ease and certainty. Ford Super-Safety Brakes of the long-tested, fool-proof, mechanical design.

Safety—as always—in the electrically welded genuine steel body. Safety Glass all around at no extra cost. Hundreds have written grateful letters because this glass has protected the safety of their families.

A car you can drive without strain all day, if you like, in city or country. Steady, holds the road, responds to the driver's touch like a well-trained horse. You don't have to "push" or "fight" the Ford V-8—driver and car easily get on terms of good understanding with each other.

An engine has much to do with the roominess of a car. Very much indeed. A long engine uses up car space. The compact V-8 engine permits much of the ordinary engine space to be used by passengers.

It really is a great car in every way, this 1936 Ford V-8—the finest, safest, most dependable Ford car ever built. Now on display by Ford dealers.

CCC EDUCATION AND PUBLIC COOPERATION

(By Adviser P. H. Smith, Hartwick Pines)

Judging from reactions as result of interviews with the general public relative to education in the camps, our staff realizes that people in general, have a wrong conception of our procedures or perhaps none at all.

The program at the outset was organized to meet a particular need among young men of all walks of life who are thrown together under peculiar and unprecedented circumstances. These needs may and will vary according to types of camps, locality in which the companies are stationed, the homes and localities from which enrollees come and the general attitude of officers and technical staff toward the enrollees personally.

In a great majority of cases we find that men have left school, not because of lack of money, but rather because the school failed to give them what they most desired. In some cases, it made no effort to help the individual in his personal problems. Many of our men, from the larger cities particularly, have attended school where they had no personal contact with their teachers. Instructors are not to blame altogether for this condition for they are merely cogs in an inefficient machine. As American citizens, we boast our system of mass education, but when we look carefully into the curriculum in a majority of schools, we find that little or nothing is done for the boy who is careless with his work, his personal bearing, his manners and respect for public property. In order to make mass education effective, more attention must be given to individual problems and then seek through every agency at hand to help this individual to a broader, fuller and happier life.

This is the problem of the CCC educational program. In order that our young people may assume the responsibility of citizenship, every citizen of his community must take a decided interest in the welfare of its boys and girls.

The government has given very little money for carrying on the educational work in the CCC camps. This fact may be in keeping with the aim of the department of education seeks to accomplish. The success of a camp educational adviser depends in no small measure on the effective way he sells his camp to the community and to a realization that boys in the camps are their boys. In some communities, doors of school buildings, churches and libraries have been opened to the men and teachers and administrators have used every means at their command to expand their programs to reach the boys in their camps. Mechanics and tool makers have welcomed small groups to their shops and have given instructions along their various lines. Bankers, manufacturers and insurance agents have come to camp to talk with men interested in various fields of work. Physicians, nurses, travelers have been called in to give first hand knowledge to men in the hope that they might better direct their lives for themselves and for others.

Classes are only one phase of the educational program. Indeed some camps give very little attention to classes and scarcely any, schedule more than one class per week in any chosen subject. Schedules are usually set up for a period of three months and less. When a need is met, the class may be abandoned and something else created to take its place. Short periods of enrollment also prevent classes for any great length of time. It must

Weight Tax Refund Checks Go Begging

More than $2,500 in checks listed unclaimed in the Department of State, the checks being made payable to motorists entitled to their refunds for weight taxes paid in 1934 before the legislature in special session, reduced the rate. The former rate of 55 cents per hundred pounds of a passenger car's weight, was reduced to 35 cents. Before the change was made, thousands of motorists had already bought their 1934 plates, and were thus entitled to refunds of the difference in payments. Checks for 510 motorists remain in the files no record of their owners traceable. They average $5 each. The only current inquiries into this matter are from motorists who received their checks, cashed them and forgot all about it.

Queer Mail Comes To Atwood's Desk

While all public officials get their share of mail improperly addressed to them, Orville E. Atwood believes his office holds some sort of record of this kind. It seems that people who do not know to whom to write, send be remembered that all phases of the program are to answer definite needs and requests of the enrollees. As long as participation is purely voluntary, no other methods can be effectively used.

their questions and demands to the Secretary of State, no matter who he might be. In the last few weeks, letters have covered such widely divergent matters as: a complaint from a woman whose husband beats their dog, a solicitation of matrimonial advice, a request that the Secretary trace the parentage of a designated child, a demand that a certain poolroom be closed because of the character of those who allegedly patronize it, a request for the addresses of a number of Hollywood film stars, and many complaints about people who are accused of making "moonshine."

Figures Revised On Building Loan

It was erroneously stated by the Department of State last week that the total assets of all Michigan building and loan corporations was $6,434,827.29, whereas this is the total of only cash and securities of these companies. Their assets total $114,871,254.52. The statement that they had advanced $1,400,000 during the last fiscal year on shareholders' applications, should have read "$5,434,663.63."

MAJOR STARRET APPOINTED HEAD OF JOBS

Major Howard A. Starret has been appointed head of the United States Re-employment Service in Michigan, according to W. Frank Parsons, Federal Director in Washington today.

Longer Lines in Ford V-8 for 1936

THE LONGER and more graceful lines of the Ford V-8 for 1936 are well illustrated in this view of the popular De Luxe Tudor Sedan. The new longer hood extends gracefully over the attractive new radiator grille. Wide streamlined front fenders, with an imposing flare, shroud the tires and house the horns behind chromium grilles. New design steel wheels with 12½-inch hub caps are handsome and easy to clean. Bucket-type front seats are exceptionally comfortable. This body type, of welded steel like all Ford V-8 bodies, is also available without de luxe appointments at lower cost.

Camp News

CAMP HIGGINS LAKE

Forty-nine attended a party for officers of the fourth forestry sub-district held at the Shoppenagons Inn in Grayling Friday evening. Besides officers, the educational advisers, camp superintendents, wives, and lady friends were invited for the chicken dinner and dancing to Don Young's music that followed. Arrangements for the party were made by Major C. E. Howard and Chaplain J. L. Connolly. Mrs. Mines of Grayling sang, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Miller. Outside guests included Capt. and Mrs. E. W. Todd of Camp Custer, Miss Mary Heffernan and Miss Susan Lanning of Marion, and Mr. and Mrs. Bryant of Lansing.

Taking advantage of fine weather over the week end, the ECW officials requested work crews from this camp to continue their extensive planting operations Saturday, which is not normally a work day. The time gained will provide a holiday on the Friday following Thanksgiving and gives prospects for a four consecutive day vacation.

Don Hodgins has been assigned clerical duties in the camp superintendent's office. He is a son of Robert E. Hodgins, formerly the camp superintendent here, and now located at Camp Lunden. Willy Nielson, the retiring clerk, has been discharged and expects to have other employment.

Kirwan Jennings of Hillsdale is now employed as junior technician on the MECW payroll at Camp Kalkaska. Jennings enrolled here at the end of the spring term of school, coming from Michigan State college at East Lansing where he was a third year student in the forestry school. He was discharged September 30 to re-enroll at Michigan State if unsuccessful in securing this job.

Five recruits were received last week from Grand Rapids. They are Alvah Ambrose, Harold Elliott, Ralph Carpenter, Anthony Haraburda, and Rudolph Johnson. Carpenter has since been discharged for desertion.

In talking to the CCC administration class, Camp Supt. M. S. Gerred recently gave some interesting facts regarding work projects. A camp is expected to produce 10,000 man days for a six months enrollment period, he explained. About 13/18ths of the man days here are devoted to forestry work, was his claim. Mr. Gerred traced procedure on work project from its origin to completion, described the various units of the Department of Conservation, difficulties in accomplishing work projects when the CCC originated, and gave interesting facts on the proposed enlargement of the Higgins Lake forest.

Lieut. S. H. Cropp, who has been assigned to this company, coming from Camp Custer, has been delayed in his arrival because of being confined to the hospital and is now reported to be on a short leave of absence.

HARTWICK PINES

The new pump-house is rapidly nearing completion. Neils Neilson has been kept busy on the construction and as soon as a new pump arrives, the new well will be put into operation.

It looks as though we shall soon revert to our natural geographical position since the ditches, long ago dug for the new pipe line, are being slowly filled in.

Blister rust men of the Conservation Department were guests of the camp over the past week end. Meetings were held in the museum building where methods of procedure, policies of the department and problems of the program were discussed. The sessions closed Sunday afternoon.

The "Pine Chips" staff are to be complimented on their splendid achievement in the turning out of the last issue of the camp paper last Saturday. Joseph Kudzia and Joseph Coffield worked long and hard to make good stencils while Henigst and McRae spent a lot of time in operating the mimeograph.

The meat cutting class will meet for the first time on Thursday evening. Mr. Dickinson from Gaylord will teach the class and will be assisted by Frank Swante. This will be a splendid opportunity for those who are looking to meat cutting as a vocation.

We are pleased to announce that Walter Sedwatt is carrying a correspondence course which will help him to qualify as an army officer. The marks on the lessons returned show a very high grade of proficiency. Good work, Walter.

We wonder why Kudzia and Smith make it the point to visit citizens of Grayling on week ends? Hope they have a nice time.

Romulus Mathes has been quartered in the camp hospital for nearly a week due to a badly wrenched knee.

James Linden was called to Flint Monday because of his mother's death.

The minstrel which the boys are practicing, has been postponed from October 30 to a later date.

CAMP AUSABLE

A ping-pong tournament is in progress at AuSable this week to determine the best player of 681. The tournament is being played between members of the overhead and the bull gang. The best player of each group will then play each other and the winner will be champion of the camp. On the overhead so far the winners of the preliminary games are Cecil Nicodemus, Johnny Grumeretz and Fred Roberts for the overhead. For the bull gang Richard Clark and Mike Stuck are the winners.

Fred A. Jones, Company truck driver for 681 returned from Mercy Hospital Sunday night after spending nine days there.

The tree planting project is progressing rapidly with the aid of Camps Johannesburg and Lunden.

Sam Hill, District Educational Adviser from Camp Custer, visited camp Monday afternoon.

Two of the Army trucks were sent to Camp Custer Tuesday morning for replacements.

Basketball shoes for the AuSable team.

Dr. A. Gottlieb, Camp Surgeon of Hartwick Pines is taking care of the medical work at Camp AuSable in addition to his other duties.

Lieutenant Pearson from 674 substituted at Camp AuSable for Lieutenant Hartley so the latter could attend the party at the Shoppenagons Inn Friday night.

Lt. Charles S. Allen, Commanding officer of Camp AuSable spent a five day leave visiting his mother at Coopersville.

New electric fixtures consisting of green lamp shades and wire guards have been installed in the newly decorated barracks.

A large group of enrollees visited the Rialto Theatre Saturday night to enjoy the educational picture "The Man of Aran." In comparing scalping and tree planting with the life of Aran an enrollee has it fairly easy.

Bob Coulter, Hardy Postema, Bud Bearss and Ernie Selvig spent the past week end at Grand Rapids visiting their respective parents.

Red Cross Has Busy Year; Statistics Impressive; Services Varied

Figures gathered at random from the year's report of the American Red Cross reveal the magnitude of the work being carried on by that organization.

Red Cross workers assisted 54,305 veterans; 587 Red Cross Public Health nurses paid $21,465 visits to 186,326 patients; 98,441 first aid certificates were issued while 46,693 persons were trained in life saving. Volunteer workers produced 3,102,843 surgical dressings, with 80,901 volunteers being on active duty throughout the year.

First Aid Treatment Taught Thousands By Red Cross

More than 187,000 certificates showing completion of first aid courses were issued last year by the Red Cross. This shows a gain of 56,000 certificates over the previous year. Approximately 64,200 boys in C.C.C. camps throughout the country passed first aid tests. Since the Red Cross first entered the field of first aid teaching, being one of the first organizations in the world to do so, almost one million persons have been trained in handling emergency treatment.

The annual report of the Red Cross further reveals that more than 327,000 copies of the Red Cross First Aid Handbook have been sold at home and abroad.

Junior Red Cross members increased by 402,000 enrollments during the year which has just passed. Junior members carried on an exchange of correspondence with junior members in 62 other countries having Red Cross Societies.

Last year 3,837,941 persons became members of the Red Cross. The annual roll call takes place each year between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day.

Opinions By Attorney General

Foremost among the important opinions recently rendered by Harry S. Toy, Attorney General of Michigan, is the one in which he held that the Liquor Control Commission may not prohibit the sale of beer for consumption on the premises on Sunday, but that this may be accomplished by local legislative bodies, either by resolution or ordinance.

"The Legislature has prohibited the sale of 'spirits' on Sunday," says Attorney General Toy. "Referring to the definition of 'spirits' we find it means hard liquor, and does not include beer. We reason that if it was intended by the Legislature that the people of Michigan should not be able to drink beer or wine of less than 16 per cent alcohol by volume on Sunday, it would have so provided. The fact is that it did not so provide."

"However, it will be noted that the local legislative body of any city, township or village, by resolution or ordinance, may prohibit the sale on Sunday of any 'alcoholic liquor' for consumption on the premises. By reference to the definition of 'alcoholic liquor' it will be noted that it not only includes hard liquors, but it likewise includes beer. It was the intention of the Legislature to place it within the power of the local legislative bodies to declare that it was the consensus of that community that beer should not be sold on Sunday for consumption on the premises."

Attention is called by Attorney General Toy to House Enrolled Act 82 of 1935 which requires that when mortgaged goods are in one county and the mortgagor resides in another, the chattel mortgage or true copy thereof should be recorded with the register of deeds in both the county where such goods are located and also where the mortgagor resides.

"The Act does not require recording with any other public official except the register of deeds," says the Attorney General. "It is clear that the Legislature intended this Act to hold one person responsible for the receiving, keeping and preserving of chattel mortgages that are placed on record."

Arenac County reported to Attorney General Toy that there are but three attorneys in the county: one is probate judge; one, prosecuting attorney; and the third, clerk of the county. Information was desired as to whether one of the three could also hold the office of circuit court commissioner. Attorney General Toy replied that the offices are not compatible with one another, and that it would be against public policy to allow the same person to hold and run for the two constitutional offices.

It was held by the Attorney General's Department that, under provisions of Act 283 of the Public Acts of 1909, as amended by Sections 3981 and 3982 of the Compiled Laws of 1929, a board of supervisors may, by resolution, return to the system of appointing road commissioners even after adopting and operating under the elective system. Also, that the board may proceed upon any such matter by resolution in the absence of a specific statutory requirement that action be by ordinance.

Others of the most recent opinions of Attorney General Toy hold that:

Receivers of insolvent banks need not attach revenue stamps to deeds of conveyance where the payment of the tax would deplete the funds necessary to pay creditors and depositors in full.

Mineral deeds and oil and gas leases or grants containing a warranty clause shall carry a certificate of the county treasurer showing that all taxes due on the land affected by a mineral deed or oil and gas grant have been paid for five years preceding the date of such instrument.

Persons adjudged to be guilty of contempt of court for nonpayment of alimony may not be committed for a definite period of time, but must be committed for such period as he shall be in contempt, not to exceed one year, however, unless he shall comply with the order of the court. In the latter event the defendant may be committed to the county jail where the court is sitting for a definite period, not to exceed thirty days. In this case, a circuit judge committed a defendant to Jackson prison for fifteen days. The defendant was ordered returned to the custody of the sheriff of the county from whence he was sent, to await the "further action of the court."

Township Road System Discarded

Six more months and the township road system will be a relic of a bygone era in Michigan.

Funeral services for the township road, one of the oldest of Michigan institutions, will take place April 1, 1936. At that time county road commissions throughout the state will take over the last parcel of township road mileage remaining in the respective counties.

There will be little mourning, however, when this once-robust road system is no more. To accomplish the transition counties have been receiving an increased allocation from state highway revenues yearly. This year the amount is $3,500,000 and next year will be increased to $4,000,000.

The allocation which started at $2,000,000 in 1932 and has increased $500,000 every year was allocated by the legislature on the basis of township road mileage in 1931. Most of the counties say that their allocation is sufficient to take care of the additional road burden although a few claim their funds are inadequate.

When the township road system is abolished there will be 77,619 miles of county roads in the state, according to figures furnished by Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner. This represents an increase of 60,317 miles over the mileage in 1931 when the county road commissions had jurisdiction over only 17,301 miles of highway.

The depression brought a death certificate for the township road system. Property values slumped and the township road became a tax burden which the people could not stand. The 1931 legislature wrote the death certificate when it enacted the McNitt law directing the counties to absorb the township roads by 1936 by taking over 20 per cent of this mileage each year.

My kidneys are acting in a normal manner. I can go to bed and sleep and don't have to keep getting up and down all night long and I don't have any kidney misery in my back." tes, which abrogates the common law liability of her husband, whenever in fact her estate is sufficient to maintain this burden.

"There is a tendency among the probate courts of this state, in giving an equitable and practical construction of the statutory provisions to the facts in a given case," says Attorney General Toy, "to hold the husband liable for the funeral expenses of his deceased wife when, as is often the case, he is the principal beneficiary."

"Clearly, such construction is opposed to the plain language of the statute, and it is not generally to be condoned, in view of the exception provided in the statute which may render the husband liable for the funeral expenses of his deceased wife when she has in fact disposed of her whole estate without making provisions for the payment of such funeral charges under her last will and testament."

"I am therefore of the opinion that a femme covert who dies possessed of any personal estate, her sole property, or any right or interest therein not lawfully disposed of by her last will and testament, shall first have such property in her estate charged with the payment of her debts, funeral charges, and expenses of administration before distribution is made as thereafter set forth in the statute, and this remedy must be exhausted before the husband may be held liable therefor."

Sell Eggs By Weight After Nov. 1st

With hundreds of people writing for information regarding the new egg regulations which become effective Nov. 1, Commissioner of Agriculture James F. Thomson, explained today that eggs may be sold by the dozen as usual but that all retail packages must carry the net weight and grade in letters not less than one-half inch in height. Thomson established four grades for eggs.

The ruling provides that all eggs sold to the consumer after Nov. 1 shall be sold by grade, producers exempted, and marked either "Fancy," "A," "B" or "C" grade. Eggs are to be graded according to the condition and quality rather than size. The rules, of course, provide for technical specifications but this is only of interest to state inspectors and dealers. The ruling discusses inedible eggs which can not be sold legally in the state.

Dealers who retail only must secure a permit from the department of agriculture. The cost is only $3 per year. Dealers who job or sell to retailers or others are required to pay an annual license fee of $25. Egg breaking plants pay a similar fee of $25 per year. No permit is required of producers of eggs, and they are not required to sell by grade. All eggs bought from the producer must be bought by weight. Persons selling to the retailer shall furnish an invoice specifying the grade, with each lot billed separately.

CROONING COUNTESS COMING TO AMERICA

America is to have a crooning countess in the person of Eve Becke, who in private life is the Countess de Canvera di Riverolo, of the Italian island of Capri. Miss Becke is one of the star vocalists taking part in the famous Jack Hylton's International revue which is heard on the air every Sunday night in "You Shall Have Music," a Columbia broadcast sponsored by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Naming Ohio
Ohio was named after the Ohio river and became a state in 1803. The name is derived from an Iroquois Indian word meaning "beautiful river." Settlement of this territory began about the year 1750.

The petition was to have been presented as soon as possible to the State Postal authorities.

Edgar Woods of the Bay City Daily Times staff was in Grayling a few minutes Tuesday noon bidding goodbye to some of his friends, for he is leaving this region November 1st to accept a position on the editorial staff of the Grand Rapids Press. And we know that there are a lot of people in Grayling and, in fact, all northeastern Michigan, who are sincerely sorry to lose him to this part of the state. Mr. Woods is a high type journalist. His ability in that line is quite generally recognized by the people of northern Michigan with whom he has been coming into contact, as well as those who know him professionally. The Grand Rapids Press is adding, in Mr. Woods, an able writer and political commentator to its staff. Succeeding him on the Daily Times staff will be Robert Wood. He was with Mr. Woods on the northern trip and we are sure our people are going to like him right from the start. Our best wishes to both of these gentlemen.

Washington Notes and Comments

(By Congressman Roy O. Woodruff)

In January when President Roosevelt asked Congress to appropriate $4,000,000,000 for public works, and $880,000,000 for direct relief, he announced that direct relief from the Federal Government to the several states "must and shall stop." He announced November 1st as the date upon which contributions to the local communities for welfare purposes should cease. He also announced that through the expenditure of this $4,000,000,000 fund, 3,500,000 able-bodied men then on welfare, would by November 1st, be taken from the relief rolls and placed in jobs on public works projects, thereby relieving the local communities of the burden of caring for these men and their dependents.

At the time this announcement was made, there were approximately 11,000,000 unemployed in this country. This was approximately the number unemployed when Mr. Roosevelt became President of the United States. A report within the past ten days by the American Federation of Labor, an organization entirely in sympathy with the President's program, and one with splendid facilities for gathering statistics as to labor conditions and the unemployed and which could be depended upon to give the complete facts, stated that today there are slightly more than 11,000,000 unemployed persons in the country.

An individual working in a CCC Camp or upon a PWA or WPA project is not an unemployed person. Having these things in mind, one cannot escape the conclusion that if we were to count those engaged in these unusual governmental activities as unemployed, the list of those persons in this country today unable to earn a living because of unemployment in private industry, would be very substantially greater than it was the day Mr. Roosevelt became President of the United States.

Billions of dollars have been expended to "prime the pump" of business rehabilitation. That this program is proving a disappointment and a fallacy, notwithstanding the expenditure of billions of the public monies, must be clear to every unbiased person.

Within the past few days, Mr. Aubrey Williams, Acting Administrator of the Works Progress Administration, disclosed that with Nov. 1st but a few days away, only 1,310,733 persons had been put to work under this program. This is 2,189,267 short of the goal set by President Roosevelt when he asked the Congress for $4,000,000,000 for this purpose. Of those counted as employed under this program, 522,618 of them are employed in CCC Camps and 594,427 have been put to work under the Works Progress Administration. Under the Public Works Program 133,659 have been put to work.

Inasmuch as the results up to date have been so disappointing to the Administration, it seems rather an inopportune time for the Chiefs of the WPA and the PWA (Mr. Harry Hopkins and Secretary Ickes) the two agencies through which this reemployment was to take place, to be spending weeks with the President of the United States, cruising and fishing around the Pacific Ocean and idling away their time in Panama, when their presence is as much needed as it is at the present time in Washington looking after their jobs.

There is scarcely a community in the United States that hasn't submitted useful and desirable public works projects. It is unfortunate that the funds for these legitimate and worthwhile purposes are limited to the point where they have been limited by the President of the United States, when such immense sums are allocated for the boondoggling purposes over which Mr. Harry L. Hopkins presides.

It is my opinion that when the public at large is fully informed as to the useless, nonsensical, ridiculous purposes for which hundreds of millions of dollars are being spent under the WPA the people will rise in their might and smite those responsible therefor.

If money must be spent out of the Federal Treasury for relief purposes, it should be spent for the public works that have some permanent value, which will be useful down the years, and which will serve those generations to come that will be called upon to pay in large part the national debt piled up in order to make these expenditures.

Spend money for useful public works? Yes. Direct relief to the worthy, needy? Yes. Expenditures to further the political fortunes of any administration in power, or for such boondoggling purposes as teaching eurythmic dancing in the larger cities, teaching grand opera to the mountaineers in the Ozarks, and other such senseless purposes? No, a thousand times, no!

Juniors Choose Play

The Juniors have chosen for their play "Meet Uncle Sally", a three-act comedy which is bound to be full of good hearty laughs for all.

The date hasn't been set as yet, but it will probably be given sometime during the first of December.

Mr. Roberts, director, is now busy selecting the cast. Practice will start next week.

Watch for the date—sometime in the near future—and plan to see the Junior play "Meet Uncle Sally."

Dr. Hathaway Speaks

Friday afternoon Dr. Hathaway, eye specialist from Pontiac gave an interesting talk at an assembly program.

He stressed the point that children under the age of 12 should not wear glasses as their eyes are not developed. He also said that too many glasses are sold to people whose eyes are normal, by optometrists who wish only to make profits and not to benefit the wearer.

Dr. Hathaway left with the school a very interesting chart on "The eye and How We See," also a booklet on the "Life of Helen Keller."

Mr. Cornell Ill

Mr. Cornell has been absent from school due to illness. We are all hoping for his speedy recovery.

Juniors to Sell Tickets

The Juniors are selling tickets for the show "Special Agent" which will be on at the Rialto Theatre this Thursday and Friday.

We are very grateful to Mr. Olson for this fine opportunity to raise a class fund.

Help out the Juniors and buy a ticket to the "Special Agent" from them.

Lab. Tabs

The Lab. seems like a different place since the tables and shelves have been varnished. There seems to be more room on the tables since the bottle racks have been removed. Next year the racks will be replaced for the chemistry students.

The Science Eight class got their first taste of laboratory life last Tuesday when they verified and used in actual experiment for the first time the scientific method in obtaining practical facts.

The Physics classes are working upon the age old "bathtub theory" or Archimedes Principle. Back about 250 B. C. Archimedes established this principle and other facts which we have been able to use in our lumbering industry, water transportation, as well as in other industries.

The Biology classes are identifying the organic nutrients that make up our foods. From this foundation unknown foods will be tested for carbohydrates, fat and oil and protein.

Fine butterfly collections by Einer and Emil Tahvonen are on display in the laboratory. The boys have caught, mounted, named and classified their specimens in a very creditable manner.

Athletic Program

During the two days of the Teachers' Institute ping-pong tournaments were held for boys and girls, respectively, at the school house. Ed Chalker waded through a tough bunch of players and emerged the winner of the boy's tournament by defeating Jack Wright in the last and snappiest game of the tournament. On Friday afternoon, Jerrine Peterson was an easy winner of the girl's tourney. Both of these tournaments were interesting and had quite a number of spectators.

Softball games were also held for the boys of the lower grades.

Jokes

Mr. Ferguson—Well Max, how did you get along in your examinations?

Max—Just fine Dad, except in History. Every question Mr. Poor asked me was about something that happened before I was born.

Mr. Roberts says it will be pleasant when the girls' fingernails get out of the red.

Jack Wright was heard to say at the last school dance: "I'd ask you for the next dance Yvonne, but all the cars are taken."

We wonder where Lars R. has been keeping himself evenings.

Wayne Nellist, man about town, has decidedly improved in his driving. When he used to drive his Model T, if he turned the same way the road did, it was a coincidence.

By the way—have you seen

Junior McNamara's new fedora bearing our school colors? It certainly is a "dilly."

Mr. Poor—Loren, who was Anne Boleyn?

Loren—"Anne Boleyn was a flatiron."

Mr. Poor—"What on earth do you mean?"

Loren—"Well it says here in the history book: 'Henry having disposed of Catherine, pressed his suit with Anne Boleyn'."

Mary Gretchen—Mr. Bond, what is the difference between "abstract" and "concrete"?

Mr. Bond—Well, when you are just thinking about making a cake, then it's only a thought, and therefore, abstract. But when you actually make the cake, it becomes concrete.

Boy Scout Doings

Work is progressing as per schedule and Thursday night will find the school gym in readiness for the long looked for Halloween party. The booths are being finished and will be turned over to the respective classes in due time. Judges are being secured and prizes obtained for the various events.

The party will commence at 7 p. m. and last to 10:30 p. m. An admission of 3 cents each will be charged to help defray expenses. All games and most of the other concessions will stick to the one cent limit.

Concession awards that have been made so far are as follows: Pitch Ball, Candy and Gum—Seniors; Three-throw, Cider and Doughnuts—Juniors; Keno and Museum—Scouts. The Bowling game, fortune telling, popcorn and grab bag concessions are being held for the other two classes and will be given out as soon as the classes are ready.

Those wishing to enter the special amateur contest will be charged a 1c registration fee and must register by Wednesday night, Oct. 30. Acts will be limited to two minutes or less for each individual or group. Experienced judges have consented to choose the winning acts.

A list of prizes and awards for the scheduled events will be posted at the school and published in next week's Avalanche. The best possible awards are being selected with the funds available and the number of participants will determine the prizes in most cases.

Regular scout work and meetings have been curtailed until after the Halloween party. Much time is being spent in getting the gym ready for the affair.

Last week Edward Martin passed his judging test while Jack Wright finished his first class first aid. These same two scouts also went on their 14 mile hike.

BIER

Absent for sixteen years, an old friend returns today. Get ready to meet him and greet him. It's ALTES LAGER—the old-time beer favorite of Michigan's beer drinkers.

Those who remember ALTES LAGER back in pre-prohibition days will recall that no other beer was so popular. It actually outsold practically every other Michigan beer despite a 25% higher price!

ALTES LAGER—the beer in the green bottle—returns today just as good as ever. For now, as then, it is made from the private recipe of Louis Schimmel, founder of the Tivoli Brewing Company. Now because it is produced in Tivoli's

It's taken time to prepare for the brewing of good old ALTES LAGER—to age it properly. Huge quantities have been mellowing for months. When you drink this grand beer—when you know its taste-tingling flavor—you will quickly understand why old-timers have never forgotten ALTES LAGER.

So, as an old friend returns, we revive a favorite expression of that day— "Let's Spit A Bottle of Altes!"

Gaylord Potato-Apple Show Next Week

The Premier Potato Growers contest will be outstanding among the various contests to be held in connection with the Top O' Michigan Potato, Apple & Seed Show next week. This contest was started seven years ago as a means of giving recognition to the outstanding potato growers of the area who have contributed so much toward the reputation of the Top O' Michigan as a potato producing center.

Since the inception of this contest it has been the policy to select a potato grower each year upon the basis of the yield and quality of his entire potato crop, together with his ability to exhibit potatoes. By such a basis of selection emphasis is given the grower's interest in potato growing, his ability and "potato personality," in order to minimize the efforts of weather conditions which might be a determining factor. The winners of this contest can truly be called the Premier Potato Grower of the year.

The Top O' Michigan Premier Potato Growers will compete with growers selected at other district shows at the state growers contest which will be held at East Lansing during Farmers' Week.

Last year this contest was won by Oscar Overholt of Levering, who scored 481 points in yield, 278 points on quality and 170 points on showmanship, making a total of 929 points, as compared with 817, the total scored by Reimer Brothers and Hopp of Rogers City, who won second place.

TOWNSEND NATIONAL CONVENTION AT CHICAGO, OCTOBER 24-27

"Four members of Congress from Michigan voted for the Townsend Plan in the last session of Congress. The seat of any other member from the state will be in peril if its occupant fails to give the Townsend Plan due consideration before the next session," is the announcement of J. E. Walker, State Manager of the Townsend Clubs, who is arranging for a large delegation to the First Convention of Townsend Clubs which will meet in Chicago October 24th to 27th inclusive.

"The Convention," says Mr. Walker, "is the most important political and social event that will be held, not excluding the National Political Conventions of next year," was his assertion.

"The newspapers and the interests which are opposed to the Townsend Plan, have attempted to lead people to believe that the Townsend Plan had died the death which has come to other movements, advocating innovations in government and social order," says Mr. Walker. "The answer will be the gathering of at least 50,000 men and women coming at great personal sacrifice from every state in the union to this Chicago gathering to formulate plans to make certain the early adoption of the Townsend Plan."

"Today it is the only definite movement looking towards permanent prosperity, towards adequate care of the aged and coupling with it the inalienable right of young men and women to work at wages which will enable them to live decently. The people are fearful of communism and fascism. They want an American plan under which our liberties will be defended not by bloodshed but by ballots. They believe that the Townsend Plan is the only suggestion yet made by which comfort and security can be permanently maintained without the sacrifice of any of the liberties of the individual. The people are wiser than the rulers or the statesmen who have not yet seen the light."

LEAGUE SELECTS COMMITTEES

Michigan Railroad Employees and Citizens League of Grayling last week made the following committee appointments:

Executive Committee

Louis Herbison.
Frank May.
Clifford Chappel.
E. G. Shaw.

Legislative Committee.

Dr. C. R. Keyport.
Dr. C. G. Clippert.
T. P. Peterson.
O. P. Schumann.
Nels Corwin.

These men are interested in seeing the railroads, especially the Michigan Central, continue to serve this region. The railroad men are interested particularly because it means employment for them. The other citizens realize that the railroads are needed and use their efforts to promote their continuance.

It goes without saying that railroads need business if they are to continue in business. Already there has been talk in railroad circles about discontinuing the Mackinac division of the Michigan Central railroad. Inroads have been made into the railroad business by the trucks.

All citizens residing in this region of Michigan are interested in keeping the railroads whether they realize it or not. The hauling of heavy, bulky materials, such as logs, coal, etc., is more economically handled by the railroads than by the trucking systems.

An instance of this is evidenced in a small town near Alpena. The railroad hauls coal from the mines to within 13 miles of that place at a rate of $3.00 a ton. This is a haul of several hundred miles. And from the terminal, trucks haul the coal to that town—13 miles—at a rate of $3.00 a ton.

At that rate, if coal has to be hauled from Bay City to Grayling by truck, it is a safe bet that it is going to cost us at least $5.00 to $10.00 more per ton than it does now.

Let's not make the mistake of letting the Michigan Central get away from us by withholding our patronage from them. The horse is still in the barn. It's a lot easier to keep him there than it is to get him back after he has been stolen. Let's keep the door locked and not have to lock it after the horse is stolen.

What Railroad Means To County

What "the railroad" means to Crawford county is illustrated in the first study ever made of the economic value of its railroads to Michigan, recently prepared by the Michigan Railroad Employees and Citizens League.

Two lines, Michigan Central and New York Central operate in this county. They have a combined total of 29.13 miles of track, and employ 25 workers earning $18,958.60 annually. The county also receives as its share of the primary school fund and in direct levies $5,950.00 of the taxes Michigan's railroads pay into the state treasury.

The picture of the state's rail network is one of large proportions. Twenty-one lines, exclusive of belt, local and industrial railways, operate wholly or in part in this state. Their Michigan trackage totals 8,085 miles and they employ 27,160 workers, earning $33,329.31 in 1934. The roads' tax bill ran $8,069,859.77 last year, of which all but approximately $250,000, locally assessed, went into the primary school fund.

Comparing the state's current rail system with that in peak times, the survey shows that in former years 44,274 men were in railroad work in Michigan, earning annually $69,542,515.75, and in the interval 610 miles of track have been abandoned and permission is now asked to abandon 516 miles more. This decline, attributed as much to unregulated fair-hire truck competition as to depressed conditions, is noted also in this county where in peak days 96 men, earning $91,459.04 were employed in local rail service.

"This survey vividly proves that everyone has a stake in the railroads," said Floyd E. Drake, executive secretary of the League. "That's true even though we personally may not send or receive freight or travel or work for the rails or own their stocks and bonds, because they bring in the things we eat and wear and live with, take away the products that provide our livelihood, and they make our lives more modern, more closely knit with the world by their certain, regular, mass-movement service. In addition, their big property investments make our county wealthier and our own property more valuable; they employ local men who spend their paychecks locally and keep our businesses and merchants prosperous; their taxes support our schools and make our own tax burden lighter and their stocks and bonds back up our insurance policies, savings accounts, trust and pension funds."

"Yet we've allowed this major economic factor to become endangered as the decline in employment and wages above reveals by compelling them, excessively regulated as they are, to compete with unregulated, improperly restricted commercial use of our highways. In selfish protection to ourselves, if for no other reason, we ought to stop 'fighting the railroads' and give them the competitive equality they need and that is theirs as a matter of fair play."

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lazorowicz and children and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Smith spent last evening at Maple Forest, where they celebrated the 72nd birthday anniversary of Mrs. Lazorowicz's father Conrad Howse, with a late chicken dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tatro, Miss Clara Atkinson, and Mrs. Alex Atkinson and son Richard, drove to Kawkawlin, Sunday, to help celebrate the 82nd birthday anniversary of Mrs. Tatro's mother, Mrs. Miles MacDonald, whose home is in Kawkawlin.

Among the Clerks

(By J. Wellington Bumsted)

With the town overrun with red jackets and long-nosed hunting dogs, it's no wonder my clerks can talk of little else besides hunting. Those who possibly can are getting a day or so off and roughing it either in the swamp districts or down in the pheasant country. Others less fortunate spend most of their time polishing their guns and most of them have that peculiar gleam in their eye which is so easily recognized as an indication of the hunting fever. Those in the stricken area going about with "gone" expressions upon their faces are a menace to the public since they are scarcely aware of what they are doing and are just as apt to sell you anything but what you ask for.

Two of our most enthusiastic pheasant hunters are also two of our most absent-minded clerks—when they are off the job. It seems that Otto Peterson and Gene Papendick did their gunning down near St. Louis and managed to get two or three birds between them. I happen to know the dog caught one of them and both boys combined their guns that fired the fatal shot. Well, anyway, when anyone asks the boys how they enjoyed them both fellows look very sheepish. After a little sleuthing I discover that it was not until both were well on the home trail that Gene says to Otto, "Say, did you get the pheasants?" "No, Otto says to Gene, "Didn't you?" And so—I discover, the birds are still hanging on the back of last week end's hunting quarters, unless of course they have been eaten by this time. Outside of that both boys say that they had a very nice time.

"Mandy" Manneville, cook at the Plaza is just now under a terrific strain. It seems that "Mandy" has just been made daddy during the past week (some place in Chicago, I believe). Little Mandy, who incidentally is also Cuban, tipped the scales at 9½ pounds. Mandy has walked unknowingly into his second week and doctors covering the case are expecting him to come out of his "coma" sometime in the near future.

Smiling Helen Brady is now in the bread line. Just at present she is soliciting bread for the Michigan Bakery company—and doing well at it, too. Tiny but terrific, is her slogan and its working like a charm.

Chris Olsen's stooge, "Andy" Anderson is now in a semi-disabled condition, having done things to his hand while opening a can of fruit. It's cut bad and looks worse with a triple bandage of cotton, gauze, adhesive, etc.

Mercy Hospital seems to be the popular place for sick clerks. Wednesday, Harry Reynolds, of Schoonover's garage was taken to the hospital for medical care and Miss Marie Brown, of Alfred Hanson's garage is at the hospital receiving treatment for a bad case of quinsy.

The Hanson Hardware Company received an unexpected visit from George Wilcox, of Maple Forest, Monday. Mr. McNeven was in the basement for a moment and hearing a big crash bounded up the stairs three steps at a time to investigate. Imagine his amazement when he discovered an automobile resting in state where once a good sized plate glass window. Mr. Wilcox explained it as a matter of brakes going wrong so now he is having them fixed—and Mr. McNeven is probably quieting his nerves with nervine.

Girls will be girls and the girls at Hanson's cafe are no exception. It seems that Mrs. Jim Bugby and the Misses Eva Swanson and Edna Muth embarked, Monday, on a short trip to Flint, where they visited Miss Clara Bugby, and Tuesday, the party made a business trip to Saginaw.

Fred Columbus Bishaw, day cook at Hanson's Cafe, is reported to be spending this week adventuring on the Great Lakes on one of the boats. It's an old and thrilling story as far as Fred is concerned for he was once a chef on one of the Great Lakes boats.

Miss Emma Lovely is no longer a waitress, having left Sunday for Flint, where she has secured employment.

Lillian Ahman, "handy man" at her father's filling station, is vacationing for a few days at Roscommon, where she is a guest of Miss Marie Mallinger.

Charlie and Bill Mosher are telling wild and impossible bird stories as the result of a hunting expedition some place in the region of Lansing and Eaton Rapids. Evidently they had a very good time even though they didn't have too good luck.

What duly excited waitress has been discovered to be "practicing up" while issuing checks at one of the local restaurants. Perhaps she got tired of signing them B. M. but I would suggest that she change her name to Smith or Jones, just by way of change.

Bunny Montour, of Plaza Grill, is evidently what is known as a "ground" person. I would suggest that she stick to terra firma. It seems that Bunny went climbing out to the ski jump but although climbing up wasn't so bad it seems that coming down wasn't so easily accomplished, and Bunny was forced to come down "backwards." That's why she wasn't at work Tuesday—she was so lame it was almost impossible to walk!

EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR ANNUAL EMTA MEETING

With reservations coming into the Log Office to the extent that Secretary T. F. Marston predicts the largest crowd the event has yet known, the stage is set and everything is in readiness for the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Silver Jubilee Meeting of the East Michigan Tourist Association and the North Eastern Michigan Development Bureau scheduled for Bay City next Tuesday.

The program calls for a newspapermen's luncheon at noon at the Hotel Republic, the business meeting and election of officers in the afternoon at the Log Office and the Silver Jubilee celebration dinner at the Wenonah Hotel in the evening.

Subjects of vital importance to all parties interested in the tourist and resort business in one form or another will arise from each of the sessions.

At the open afternoon meeting attendants will be particularly interested in the talk of Representative Vernon Brown of Mason, Mr. Brown is well known throughout the state and middle west as an authority on taxation and problems. His address should be enlightening to property owners throughout the entire region.

Others on the afternoon program are A. C. Martin of St. Johns, a hotel operator who will discuss the part played by the house trailer in curbing to an extent the hotel business during the past few years. Director P. J. Hoffmaster will discuss conservation problems.

The evening program has as principal speaker Governor Frank Fitzgerald, Ben East, J. Lee Barrett and James Thomson. All are expected to dwell on subjects of vital importance to the tourist and resort movement.

A wide and varied program of entertainment is also planned, featuring, as it does, the Sebeva Municipal Band of thirty-five pieces, the Lumberjacks of Michigan who have played to national audiences throughout the past year and a floor show and orchestra combination featuring singers, dancers and novelty acts.

Because places are limited, Log Office officials request that reservations be made as far in advance of the event as possible.

Already 35 members of the Jackson Board of Supervisors have stated they will charter a bus to attend and the Alcona Chamber of Commerce lists reservations for nearly 40.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION

Mr. O. P. Schumann, Grayling, Mich.
Dear Sir:

We are sending you this letter in the hope that you will publish it in your paper to show our appreciation for what Attorney Moore of your city did for us in the recent adoption case tried in Grayling.

If we had lost the baby through the action of the State, it would have been worse than a death in the family. The baby means as much to us as life itself. The State tried hard to take the child from us, even going as far as to send a lawyer up from Lansing to try the case. We feel that Attorney Moore saved the baby for us and we sure do thank him for it. We liked the way he handled the case and we want to help him by telling others of his good work. It surely does pay to always be truthful in all things.

Will you please publish this in your paper?
Yours truly,
Mr. and Mrs. Byron Watson.

Lt. Allen Writes Folk Back Home

Copy of letter sent to parents of enrollees at Camp AuSable:

681st Cor. CCC,
Camp AuSable, S-108 (Mich.),
Grayling, Mich.
October 12, 1935

Dear -----
I have been selected for the Civilian Conservation Corps and has been detailed to this camp. Since the formation of this CCC Company in the spring of 1933, it has had a good record and reputation. The Army has been pleased with the high morale and with the cleanliness and sanitation of the camp and men; the Technical Service has commended the men of the camp for the amount of work performed and for the willingness to assist in any emergency; the people of the locality have had no complaint concerning the behaviour of the men in town and so forth; we hope that ----- will assist us in maintaining this record.

While a member of this company, the boy will be immunized against small-pox, typhoid fever and his resistance against other diseases will be greatly increased. If he should contract any injury or illness, he will be given medical attention at Government expense. This includes operations and hospitalization if necessary. The only exceptions to this are non-emergency dentist treatment and T. B.

The boys are given religious teaching by the Army chaplain and ministers of local churches. There is an extended recreational program in which every man can participate. Inter camp competition increases the men's loyalty and patriotic spirit.

They are clothed with clothing that is adapted to the country in which they work. They are housed in clean, cheerful barracks containing about thirty-five men each. This gives each man an invaluable lesson in tolerance and the ability to get along with others. The food is wholesome, plentiful and the menus are carefully planned so that the diet will be well balanced. While food being cooked for two hundred cannot be given the same attention as food for a family of three to seven, it is well cleaned and prepared. All meats are Government inspected.

The men work six hours a day, five days a week for the Technical Service which is allied with the Michigan State Department of Conservation. Some of the work performed is: planting of trees; building of fire lanes, truck trails and roads; stream improvement; blister rust control, etc. At times when it is necessary to fight forest fires, the men fight in groups under the direction of experienced forest rangers. Each man has a few hours work to do each week in cleaning and maintaining the camp.

There is an educational department at the camp for the express purpose of aiding the enrollee to better enable himself to overcome the obstacles in the economic world. Courses in High school credit, vocational courses and improvement of leisure time may be chosen by the enrollee to study in his spare time. The library consists of four hundred volumes of fiction and technical books and thirty magazines. It is the desire of the Educational Adviser to cooperate with the enrollee and parent. Please write a letter to the Educational Adviser offering any suggestions about the enrollee which will be of aid to him.

In spite of the efforts to keep the men contented, some of them get homesick so it is requested that you do not write any discouraging news if it can be avoided. If there should be serious illness or accident in the family, the men are allowed leave with pay at the rate of one and one quarter days per month. This time is to be used in case of emergency only. Do not make it harder for us and for him by writing him to come home too often. At the rate of about once a month, the men can go home for the week-end, providing they can show means of transportation. Hitch-hiking and unauthorized riding on trains are prohibited. Ownership or operation of motor vehicles is strictly prohibited. Return allotment money to enrollees is also prohibited. Violation of these regulations subject offender to discharge.

Honorable discharge can be given before the end of the enrolment period to enable the enrollee to accept employment, to attend school or if his presence is urgently needed at home. However, it is desirable from the standpoint of both the enrollee and the Government that each man remain in camp for at least six months.

There are no days set aside at this camp for visitors. All relatives and friends of enrollees are welcome at any time. It is also our desire that you write to the Commanding Officer concerning your ----- If desired, such communications will be held in strict confidence. It is our desire to help and advise the enrollees not only in their camp life but also in matters pertaining to their home life, religion, education, occupational qualifications, etc.

CCC Officers Hold Banquet

Last Friday evening there were twenty-four officers of the Fourth Forest Sub-District, with their ladies, at a lovely dinner in the Shoppenagons Inn in Grayling. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Carter of Temple, Mrs. R. O. Milnes and Mrs. C. A. Miller of Grayling and Captain and Mrs. Edwin Todd of Battle Creek.

This is the first of a planned series of dinner-dances for this sub-district which is one of ten in the Camp Custer area. The eight camps of this sub-district are part of 88 CCC camps located in Michigan where there will be some 18,000 men quartered during the winter. Forty-nine camps will be in national forests, 22 in state forests, five in private forests, 11 in state parks and one in a wild life conservation project. These eight camps in the immediate vicinity of Grayling will be a great asset to the community and we are happy that the town's people are showing themselves definitely interested in the CCC program.

After the dinner Friday evening Toastmaster Chaplain Connolly introduced the Sub-District Commander, Major Charles Howard who introduced the various Camp Commanders and they in turn presented their guests. Captain Todd gave a brief and interesting talk and Mrs. R. O. Milnes sang two very lovely selections, accompanied by Mrs. C. A. Miller at the piano. Dancing with Don Young's orchestra continued until after midnight. It was unanimously felt that this party was most successful and created a greater camaraderie among officers of the sub-district. The local authorities made the arrangements so thoroughly that there was nothing lacking in accommodation. Beautiful flowers adorned the U table so delightfully set.

THE DAY OF LEFTOVERS

IN EVERY well-regulated home there will be nice food which should not be slighted because it is left over. One housekeeper cleverly gets everything eaten by serving a tray with small dishes, nicely warmed and seasoned and each member of the family may have a choice. The food never goes begging.

In these days of vegetable plates one may have a hot vegetable plate with a few spoons of peas, beans, tomatoes, cabbage or onions. Such a meal is often preferred by those who realize that they eat too much meat.

Leftover baked potatoes make most delicious creamed potatoes, having quite a different flavor from the freshly cooked or boiled ones. One large grapefruit when carefully peeled and the sections (minus their covering) placed on tender lettuce with a sprinkling of shredded almonds and a good dressing, make the best of salad.

By the way, our beauty dietitians tell us that a dozen almonds a day with an apple, banana or a glass of fruit juice is one of the best luncheons for beautifying the complexion. The almonds must be carefully masticated.

Rice and Meat Mold.
Mix two cups of boiled rice with one-half teaspoon of salt and line a buttered mold with two-thirds of the mixture. Mix two cups of chopped cooked meat with one cup of soft bread crumbs, salt, paprika, two tablespoons each of chopped onions, celery and parsley; add two beaten eggs, one-half cup of milk and pour into the mold. Cover with the remaining rice. Over the top place a thick waxed paper. Set into hot water and bake in a moderate oven 35 minutes. Serve with Tomato Sauce.

Take two cups of tomatoes, two slices of onion, two bay leaves, two celery leaves, four whole cloves, one teaspoon of salt, one-fourth teaspoon of paprika, one-half teaspoon of sugar and one cup of water. Cook together slowly for 20 minutes. Strain and add to three tablespoons of butter and four of flour that have been well blended. Cook until creamy.
